'm just simply wishing you a Happy New Year. I don't know bishop how you do it but your ministry and you have been a blessing to so many people.

Bishop Speaks

Year's end letters to the bishop.....

Bishop Moultry:

My husband and I want to thank you so much for being so faithful to us and your other readers this past year with your Bishop Speaks columns. My husband and I have sent your articles to our children out of state as well as to many of our friends all over country. Your powerful insights with not only a spiritual foundation but also your sense of joy always comes out as you have made many powerful statements and addressed inportant issues.

Looking forward to 2012 bishop and have a blessed New Years Day.

Bishop:

Just wanted to say how blessed I've been all year reading Bishop Speaks.

I met you a few months ago at the gas station and when I approached you bishop for the first time it was as if we were friends and have known each other for years. Bishop, you're so down to earth that I could not even believe it. I also felt your strong spirit which gave me just what I needed to get through my day.

Bishop, I hope to be reading many more Bishop Speaks in 2012.

Bishop Moultry:

My wife and I enjoyed so much seeing you sing and play Silent Night on Facebook Christmas Eve from your home. Not only can you write a great column but you can play the piano and sing as well.

Bishop, your words of wisdom did a great deal for me and when ever I was thinking about doing something stupid I'd think of you and how you might handle the situation. I've been out of prison now for over a year and you've helped me stay on point through Bishop Speaks. I mail out your column to inmates at the prison I was at.

Bishop, know that you're loved and respected by so many and I look forward to reading Bishop Speaks in 2012.

Happy New Year Bishop Moultry!

Bishop:

I'm just simply wishing you a Happy New Year. I don't know bishop how you do it but your ministry and you have been a blessing to so many people. Your Bishop Speaks column have helped me in so many ways when dealing with my teenage son as a single mother. He even respects you bishop and always says you keep it real.

Bishop, have a great Christmas Day with your family and love ones.
