Small business seminars are just one of several ways the IRS provides information to small business owners and tax practitioners.

COLUMBUS, Ohio – The Internal Revenue Service is partnering with SCORE to present small business seminars throughout Ohio during November and December. This includes a Business Basics Workshop to be held at Cleveland SCORE, US Bank Building, 1350 Euclid Ave., Suite 216, Cleveland, from 10 a.m. to noon on Dec. 14, 2011.

The Business Basics Workshop is designed for entrepreneurs planning to start a new business, and for small business owners who need general, basic business advice. Topics include setting up the business enterprise, development and the need for a business plan, and lender requirements for financing. Attendees will gain knowledge of the efforts required to successfully plan, start and run a business.

This Cleveland workshop is coordinated by Cleveland SCORE. For more information, please visit http://www.cleveland.scorechapter.org/view_calendar.html . To register, please call (216) 522-4194, Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., or email appointments@chapter30.org
.

Small business seminars are just one of several ways the IRS provides information to small business owners and tax practitioners. Tax professionals are encouraged to subscribe to IRS e-News for Tax Professionals. This free service enables subscribers to receive e-mailed notifications of IRS-sponsored seminars and other tax-related news. To subscribe, visit the official IRS website page www.IRS.gov/newsroom , then click on "e-News Subscriptions" and "Join e-News for Tax Professionals." Small business owners and self-employed workers are encouraged to check out the information and resources available to them at the IRS' special Small Business and Self-Employed Tax Center webpage section, at http://www.irs.gov/businesses/small/index.html
.