County judge bites plug out of dog fight ringleader: Just maybe this idiot had never heard of a football player name Michael Vick, who did extensive jail time for dogs fighting. On July 16, a Cuyahoga County judge sentenced Collin Rand Jr. 33, to start his first 180 days in jail for taking bets and making some po dogs fight each other. The judge gave this dummy a break and allowed Mr. "C" to plead guilty to some lesser charges. They had originally charged him with 28 counts of dog fighting, 6 counts of cruelty to animals, drug trafficking, carrying a pistol, and a whole bunch of other stuff. Once he is in the joint let's see how well he can fight. That a good bet and a sho-nuff winner!

Some scandalous sucka stole my food stamp card: On July 17, at 9:09 a.m., it was reported by some folks living in the 1400 block of South Main Street, that some ornery rotten crook walked in to their house and took their wallet that had their, SS card, $140 in cash money, their Ohio ID card and their Ohio Directional card which is used to buy food. They believe that it was somebody they knew because hadn't nobody been there except kin folks. Oh well! Who can you trust?

Thieving scallywag cuts hole in floor to break into bar: If a chump is willing to work this hard to rob somebody this guy can get a job. On July 18, it was reported that around 8:30 a.m., on July 16, some thieving bastard had the nerve to cut a hole in the floor of an upstairs apartment to break in the bar downstairs. The thief looted the bar located at 1090 Brown Street, and stole a karaoke stereo system, some big speakers, a 27 inch TV, and a bunch of other stuff. If you know who this is, tell on him: call 330-434-2677, Crime Stoppers.

A no good, low down, dirty rotten heathen broke into the church: On July 18, it was reported that on July 16, some low down, dirty rotten scoundrel broke into the South Street Ministries Church, over on Grant Street, through the front porch window and went into the church. At this time the preacher said that they weren't sure what this thief took and they are checking to see if anything is missing. A police report was filed.

Kathy and Fred were desperate, stealing duct work to buy drugs:

Can you believe these two knuckleheads? On July 17, it was reported that Katherine Stanly, 45, and 54-year-old Fredric Grisby, broke into a house over on King Street, and ripped the people's duct work right out of the walls. The irony is that these two buzzards were caught on video ripping down stuff and stealing like they had lost their minds. A hidden camera identified these two idoits and the cops went and picked they're behinds up.

Kris Cater went berserk and beat a fella unconscious: For whatever reason this chump must have lost his mind for a minute and beat this po' man until he was unconscious. On July 17, it was reported that a chump named Kristopher Carter, 29, who lives on Elinor Avenue, jumped on a po' fella, knocked him down and continued to pound on him until the dude was unconscious. The cops said that after Kris knocked dude down he got on top of him and went berserk and started wailing away like he had lost his ever-loving mind. The fella was taken to a nearby hospital and the cops charged Kris' butt with Felonious Assault. Now let him fight that!

What on earth possessed these fools to roll up the rug and steal it:

Oooowee! I know these rogues done went plum crazy when they rolled up the damn rug and steal it. On July 12, at around 9 a.m., some thieving fools broke into a vacant house over in the 1100 block of Himelright Boulevard, and almost wiped out everything that was in it. These clowns took a sofa, a loveseat, a lawn mower, the kitchen stove, the plants and then had the balls to roll up the damn rug and take it. When these buzzards get caught the judge need to lock them up and throw away the key.

A chump hired to clean their home, cleaned them out: On July 17, it was reported that a family hired a chump named Matthew Shumway to clean up their house, and Matt stole six of their blank checks and went on a check cashing rampage. This fool forged these folk's name and cashed the checks at a number of different locations around Akron and Springfield that, when they all were totaled up, came to $2,017.04. You got to know who you are hiring to do work around your house. Everybody ain't honest.

The cops busted Godfrey walking out of the folk's backyard: On July 17, at 8:07 a.m., a caller in the 100 block of Hall Street, reported that there was a chump burglarizing the house next door, "and if ya'll hurry up you will grab this fool in the act." When the cops arrived they spotted a 43-year-old Clifford Godfrey walking out of the back yard holding the goods. Cliff admitted that he had gone into the house looking for some stuff to scrap. He also had in his possession some criminal tools and two pocket knives. Busted!

You know it had to be a dope fiend to steal 35 Percocet pills: On July 13, between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m., it was reported that a dope junkie had broke into some folk's house over on Bank Street and stole their Yamaha dirt bike and some other miscellaneous stuff. They also stole the family's recently filled prescription of 35 Percocet pills. This thug probably just took the motorbike to make his get-away. The cops are on the look out for this one, so watch yo medicine cabinet.

Bryan came home drunk and punched his baby's momma in the face: On July 16, a 44-year-old lush named Bryan who lives on Wilbur Avenue, came home drunk, got into a big argument with his baby's momma and some other folks and then he started acting a fool. Some people said that not only did this clown jump on his baby's momma, but this fool pushed the five-year-old child down on the floor. Somebody that was there video recorded this fool in his folly. The cops came out arrested his drunk behind.
